Kentucky Leadership Recognized at KCFC Natural Gas & Propane Event

KCFC hosted a propane and natural gas workshop Wednesday, October 21st at Berry Hill Mansion in Frankfort, KY. This workshop brought together industry and political leaders to discuss propane and natural gas in the state of Kentucky. Selected fleets were recognized for their efforts to increase natural gas and propane vehicle use in the state. KCFC recognized Bourbon, Bath and Hardin County Schools for their leadership in purchasing Propane powered school buses for their districts. Also, recognized Crittenden, Trimble and Nicholas counties. Tom Underwood, Kentucky Propane Education & Resource Council received an LPG Leadership Award from KCFC president Alan Steiden, along with Rumpke, who was honored as CNG Newcomer to Kentucky, and Carrie Butler and Michael Nagy from LexTran who received Kentucky's First CNG Transit System Award.

Now More Than Ever: Mower Incentives Are Back

PERC's Propane Mower Incentive Program is back: Effective immediately, but for a limited time, landscape contractors can apply to receive $1,000 toward the purchase of a new propane-powered mower, and $500 toward a qualified conversion.

This opportunity will only last until the program funds expire, though, so there's no time to waste; in fact, some industry professionals attending the GIE + Expo in Louisville, Kentucky, this week got a head start in hearing about the advantages:

- Lower operating costs
- Proven performance
- Fewer emissions

About Us

The Kentucky Clean Fuels Coalition was established in 1993 to provide the first alternative fuels resource for Kentucky educators, consumers and providers of alternative fuels/vehicles. It is now a successful non-profit 501C3 self-supporting organization and a national leader in the clean fuels market.
